Winter brings need for assistance

More people seeking help with heat and utility bills

A local article discusses the need for assistance during the winter months, particularly for those struggling to pay for heat and utilities. The local community has seen an increase in requests for help with energy bills, and organizations are stepping up to provide assistance. The article highlights the efforts of local groups and individuals to support those in need during the colder months.