Foreclosures top 700 so far this year;

County still in housing crisis

By Holly Kalt

Foreclosures topped 700 so far this year.

At a meeting of experts offered advice at a meeting.

The experts offered advice about what can be done to prevent or delay a foreclosure.

Despite the efforts, the number of foreclosures has continued to rise. The Community Foreclosure Coalition has received a significant number of calls from residents in need of assistance.

The coalition has been able to provide assistance to those in need, but the number of foreclosures continues to rise. The coalition is seeking additional resources to help those in need.

The experts noted that the current housing crisis is a result of the economic downturn and the impact of the pandemic. They recommended that the government provide more assistance to those in need.

The coalition remains committed to helping those in need and is seeking additional resources to continue its work.
